

NSU CDC staged its In-House Drama Production

‘Arsenic and Old Lace’

Theatre is a very old and sophisticated form of entertainment and it is also the perfect way of expressing the intricate human emotions in an aesthetic manner. North South University Cine and Drama Club’s (NSU CDC) respect towards this form of entertainment is clearly expressed through the seriousness with which it deals with the world of theatre.

With a message that everything can have a dark side to it, NSU CDC staged its two-day long drama farcical black comedy around the Brewster family named Arsenic and Old Lace on December 9th and 10th, 2014 at NSU campus. Arsenic and Old Lace is a play by the American playwright Joseph Kesselring, written in 1939. The play was directed and guided by Mr. M. Arifur Rahman.

The play, a clever combination of the farcical and the macabre, centers on two elderly sisters who are famous in their Brooklyn neighborhood for their numerous acts of charity. The first show of In House Drama Production, 2014 was held on 9th December at the NSU Plaza. Mr. Tariq Anam Khan, famous director attended the event as the Chief Guest and Prof. Emdadul Haq NSU’s Club Coordinator attended the event as the Special Guest.

The inauguration of the second show on 10th December, 2014 was commenced by eminent faces. Mr. Benajir Ahmed, the Chairman of Board of Trustees, NSU attended the event as the Chief Guest and Prof. Amin U. Sarkar, Ph.D., Vice Chancellor of NSU was the Chair of the Session. Mr. Asad Chowdhury, celebrated poet and writer joined as the Special Guest of the event. Dilara Afroz Khan, NSUCDC’s faculty advisor, commenced the show by introducing all the guests. Students and faculty members were also present at the gala event.
